Garden Club News

Greetings fellow gardeners! It seemed like this year, summer came suddenly. One minute we were all bundled up, complaining about this unusually long, cold winter, the next we were slapping mosquito's and slathering on the sunscreen.

Some of our tender perennials did not make it through this brutal winter. Did you have some “winterkill” amongst your perennials? You’re not alone! If you’re still looking to replace perennials in your yard, at this poi, it’s best to wait a few more weeks until the greenhouses have their big sales on. Usually around the 2nd-3rd week of June, greenhouses begin to offer drastic discounts. This is the time to buy the more expensive plants like perennials or trees, as the 25-50% off will make a big difference to your wallet.

A huge thank you to all of you who stopped by our tables at the Spring Fling and bought some annuals, perennials or raffle tickets. Your support is what keeps this Club going. If you’re a gardener, why not consider joining the Evergreen Garden Club, too? Our large and lively group has year-round meetings, crafts and speakers, all to do with growing things. Get your annual membership today for just $10. For more information call or text Cori at 780-860-3582 or email Margaret at verhagenma@gmail.com.

We had our annual container planting at Kuhlmann’s on May 8th, courtesy of the Club and the greenhouse. A huge thank you goes out to Anita at Kuhlmann’s for hosting us again, giving us the run of the greenhouse, and babysitting our containers until June. The soft cookies and tea/coffee were great, too! Our May meeting was a general meeting where we mostly planned for the Spring Fling event.

Our next Garden Club meeting will be June 18th at 6:30pm at the Community Hall. Have your walking shoes on, because we’re going on a tour of the top three containers of this year’s Container Contest. Kuhlmann’s gift certificates are usually up for grabs, and the competition is fierce. Who will walk away with the First Prize Container this year? Stay tuned for the results next month!

Join the Club, share a few laughs, meet new friends, and go home feeling good.
